

The Enneagram Personality Model provides us with an extraordinary map of our behavior, the behaviors of others and the causes of these behaviors. When we begin to see others and ourselves more clearly we can attain enhanced levels of communication and improved interpersonal relationships. This is also an excellent platform to initiate change of one's life experience.

In this seminar we will focus specifically on how to recognize, communicate and relate to each other personality; and how to change your mental, physical and emotional experience.
